Strategic Foci for 2025

2025 Outcomes

To explore and integrate contemporary insights into brain science and executive function within our Waldorf approach to thinking, feeling, and willing. We aim to align our methods for developing students' will and appreciation for beauty with current research on effective learning and well-being, ensuring these practices meet the diverse needs of our students.

To align our school curriculum with national SEANZ curriculum guidelines documents, strengthening the unique character of Waldorf education, while building collaborative networks with other Waldorf schools in Aotearoa.

To deepen the integration of te ao Māori principles within our Waldorf curriculum, fostering a culturally responsive and holistic approach that honors both Māori perspectives and Waldorf educational philosophy.

To harmonize the inner development practices for teachers, as envisioned by Rudolf Steiner, with contemporary expectations of professionalism, reflective practice, and student-centered teaching.

To foster collaborative teaching practices enhancing both personal growth and collective efficacy within our Waldorf educational community.

To continue to build a strong partnership with parents through education and engagement, fostering a shared understanding of Waldorf principles and collaborative support for student growth.
